

APR 25 1922

©CIL 17772

✓
THE JUNGLE GODDESS ✓

Photoplay in two reels ✓

✓ Episode #12 The Jaws of Death" ✓

Scenario by Frank Dazey and Agnes Johnston ✓

Directed by James Conway ✓

Author of the photoplay (under Sec. 62)
Export & Import Film Co. Inc. of the U. S. ✓

THE JUNGLE GODDESS

©CIL 17772

EPISODE 13.

APR 25 1922

EPISODE 13

THE JAWS OF DEATH.

Ralph pacing up and down cell, wondering about Betty. Guard comes to small grating hole in door and peers in at Ralph, then continues his walk up and down outside.

Betty in jungle on elephant is going slowly along, Betty glancing back from time to time. They stop, look around, then exit along, followed by the chimp.

Ralph stops pacing up and down as he glances up and sees a rope hanging from ceiling and close up near the top he spies a small window. He turns slowly and goes to door, looks out to see where guard is. Seeing guard go around corridor he comes back into cell and looks up, then climbs up and catches rope, swings himself across to small opening and begins to work himself through window out of sight. Once outside he slides down a few feet, then stops and looks down. His face changes to that of frozen horror as he sees what is below. A den of tigers are milling and snarling about just below him in a small enclosure. Ralph looks up again sees he cannot again reach the window from which he came, looks again and sees small window with the face of the smiling priest looking out at him. He realizes he has fallen into the trap set for him by the angry priests. He holds desperately to rope, trying to pull himself up as the animals below snap and jump at him.

Betty, in the jungle gets off of the elephant, goes to the chimpanzee and talks to it. The chimpanzee nods and starts out across the jungle, going back after Ralph. She comes in to side of building, sees Ralph hanging by rope nearly exhausted. The chimpanzee comes in along the corridor, sees coil of rope, picks it up and exits. Ralph's hands are beginning to slip from the rope and he realizes he must surely slip and fall into the pit, and as he does so, a tiger starts forward for him. Ralph sees a rope drop down almost into his face and grasps it winds part of it about his body leaving one free end with which he pelts at tigers, then suddenly the chimpanzee begins hauling up the rope and Ralph is swung clear of the pit and up to roof of building. They climb down to ground and encounter the guard and a priest. Ralph knocks them both down then seeing a man holding a horse nearby, he runs in and grabs horse and rides out up hill followed by two men on horseback following him.

Ralph rides into scene where there are some low hanging limbs of trees and swings himself up into tree, leaving the horse free to run on - the pursuers come into scene and pass the place where Ralph is hiding in tree. They come upon Betty sitting by tree. They dismount and go over to her, grab her. She struggles to free herself but they start back toward the horses with her, but wapu the elephant has heard the struggle and comes toward them. The men drop Betty and run to their horses and ride out. Elephant, enraged, trumpets, Ralph in jungle hears and goes toward sound. Chimpanzee also hears trumpet of elephant and starts in the same direction. Betty gets up and follows out after elephant, and in a little clearing not far distant the three come upon the elephant and are reunited once more. The chimpanzee comes into scene and tries to attract their attention, they start out and find they are near a seaport.

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress